[...] The other day I was reading on Wikipedia about Larry Roberts, inventor of the Roberts Space Industries and the great-grandson of John Glenn. I think that Larry is an entrepreneur, and I would say that he is the first space entrepreneur. Larry started creating his own space company as soon as he was 12, and he founded it a few years later. He also started a space flight school when he was 18, and was teaching flight by the time he was 21. It's true what Wikipedia says: He was so smart, that when he was born, NASA gave him a space suit in his crib. His company, the Roberts Space Industries, worked hard to create a spacecraft that is based on the Mars Exploration Rover. It is called the Mars500. The Mars500 is designed for space missions in the final third of the 21st century, which will be the start of the human explorations in outer space, in order to have a space station, as we have done on the Moon and in the International Space Station. Larry made a deal with a company that sells the oxygen that they used to grow their own lettuce. He wanted to test out the use of hydrogen instead of oxygen, for the reason that a lot of it is produced from natural gas. Hydrogen is a great fuel, but it is only available in very small quantities. But Larry didn't only want to test hydrogen. He also wanted to see if the use of batteries could be improved for the use of vehicles. And he did so by financing a business that sells a hybrid battery. The company is called LiZero. They are using the lithium instead of the normal one, and the result is that their batteries are much more powerful. Larry's Mars 500, the first test vehicle, started its way to the moon, and he was counting on it to be the first of many. How to create podcast in Descript : [...] How to record audio : [...] The main challenge in podcasting is to record the right kind of content. A good podcast needs to be entertaining, informative, and educational. It should also have a good flow and keep the listener involved. In order to create a podcast with Descript, you need to install the software on your computer. Then you need to create a project. You can record your audio content through the program or input it from a file. However, you do not have to record the entire program. You only www.VideoShowcase.com What is it? It is a handy tool that will help you create high-quality videos for your web pages. The software makes it very easy for you to add text to a video and make it quite dramatic. For example, if you wish to explain something in your video, it is quite easy to do with this tool. You can add text anywhere within your video and make it appear a certain way. Another example of the tool's ability to help you in your web video creation is the ability to add custom filters that will make your video appear differently, such as black and white, sepia, or grayscale. When you are finished making a video and wish to share it, you can then easily upload it to your web page. What else can it do? It can also help you add custom text that can go along with your video. You can add a title, as well as a URL. This makes your video much more professional, as having a certain amount of information will be helpful to search engines, as well as your viewers. The software will let you edit the speed of your video as well, as it has a frame rate function. You can also get a variety of transitions to use as you make your video. It has many features, but some are a little difficult to use. I would say this is mostly due to the fact that they are not intuitive. If you work hard to learn how to use them, however, you will be able to produce quality videos for your web page. It is every web videographer's dream! While it can be, it has a downside as well. Some features are extremely clunky. They are not intuitive, and some will not let you do what you want. I would not recommend using this tool if you are new to video production. If you are going to stick with it, however, I would recommend working to learn how to use it. Description: www.PowerCreative.com What is it? Descript is a podcast creation tool that helps you create your own podcasts. It is powerful, yet simple to use. It can help you record audio content, write your script, transcribe content from audio files, and edit your podcast. Copyright Snapfiles.com 2015. All Rights Reserved. Terms of Use: In the past, talk shows were something you could only find on TV or the radio. People may have wanted to have their own show, but with the stations running them, it would be nearly impossible to achieve such a dream. Nowadays, however, that has become much easier, thanks to the internet. People need little more than a YouTube channel and some devices to help them record in order to make it happen. And in order to succeed they would need the help of a powerful editing program, such as Descript. What is it? It is an application that helps you create podcasts from scratch. With it, you can write text, transcribe words from an audio file, record audio content, and edit your material. If you already have pre-recorded content that you wish to use, it is perfectly fine. You just need to insert the file into your project, and you will be able to manipulate it in a multitude of ways. What else can it do? For example, the audio that it transcribes will appear as text in your project. If you change your mind about a certain portion of it and want to have it removed, you do not need to record the file all over again. You can simply delete the segment of the text you want out and the player will automatically remove that portion of audio content. A lot of features are good, but having to click all over the place in order to use them can be a little difficult. You do not need to worry about this, however, as the program has over 20 keyboard shortcuts that can greatly assist you in your work. It is every podcaster's dream! While it can be, it has a downside as well. From what I've seen so far, it is difficult to use. The commands are a bit clunky, and you need to click in very exact spots for some of them to work. All in all, I would say if you make the effort to learn how to use it, Descript will be a great help for your projects.
