123Posted August 22, 2016 at 11:16 pm Here's a good time to introduce some of the new characters I've been thinking up for this comic! Anybody else wondering who exactly Spider-Man made that joke about being with one of her groupies? - Tuesday's Tedd, with Wednesday's Pru- - Thursday's Tom, with Friday's Tedd - Saturday's Tedd, with Sunday's Pru- - Monday's Pru, with Tuesday's Tom- - Friday's Tom, with Monday's Pru- - Tedd is on the left side of the frame, Tom on the right. As an aside, I hadn't realized Tedd and Tom were mirror characters before I started drawing these, but now I kinda like the idea that they are mirror characters.Q: What is the meaning of $\frac{\sqrt{\sqrt{4}\{4\}}-1}{2}$ Consider the expression R in the body of the problem. I have to show that $R=2$ (a) By showing that $R=2.5$, 2.4 , ..., 2.1 . (b) By showing that R is irrational. (c) By showing that R is never an integer. (d) By using the laws of logarithms. (a) Let $R=2^{\sqrt{4}\{2\}}$. Then, $R=2.4$ is equivalent to $\sqrt{4}\{2\}=2^{\frac{2}{4}}$. This means that $\frac{2}{4}=\frac{1}{2}$ i.e. $2=\sqrt{2}$ i.e. $R=2$

Let $R=2.5$ then $\sqrt[4]{2}=2^{\frac{3}{4}}$. Now, $\frac{3}{4}=\frac{1}{2}$. Then $2=\sqrt{2}$. But this is impossible. Hence $R=2$ is incorrect. (b) By definition of R , one can write $\sqrt[4]{R}=\sqrt[4]{2}$
